We understand seeing a family lawyer for the first time can be stressful.

For your first appointment, we will discuss with you where things are up to and your next steps.

To get the most out of your appointment, we recommend you provide the following if possible:

- The latest correspondence from the other party or their lawyer.
- Any documents that have been drafted or filed with the Court.
- For property matters, a list of current assets and liabilities held by you and the other party, including superannuation. This list does not have to be complete.
- Optionally, a list of questions you would like to address during your appointment.

If you don't have this information, that is ok too. We will work with what you have.
